The person to whom the child was born or who, with the decision of the Orphan's Court, the child has been transferred to an upbringing shall have the possibility to obtain information regarding the estimated amount of parental benefit prior to requesting the benefit.

A forecast of the amount of parental benefit helps you make a choice:

- who receives a child benefit from a parent;
- the duration of the receipt of the allowance up to the age of one year or a half of the child.

The estimated amount of the benefit shall be calculated using the information at the disposal of the State Social Insurance Agency regarding the social insurance contributions of a person at the time of calculation and shall have an informative nature.
